

I worked in the garden. Saturday night we had dinner at home and in the evening we went up to Mrs. Neilson's, Mrs. Carpenter's mother, and spent the evening, leaving there about ten o'clock. We did not have any telephone calls while we were there. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carpenter, my brother and Mrs. Carpenter's sister, were staying at Mrs. Neilson's.

Sunday we had breakfast about 8.30 or quarter of 9 and then Mrs. Carpenter and I went down to Spring Lake in our car. When we got there we went to Mrs. Johnson's boarding house, where Dr. and Mrs. Runyon and the children were staying. I should say we left home at approximately 9.30 and got down there by 11. We went to Mrs. Johnson's, met the Runyons, and took a walk down the boardwalk to the lower pavilion, which is opposite the Monmouth House. The Runyon's were with us all the time. We watched the bathing, then walked home again and had lunch at Mrs. Johnson's about 1.30. After lunch we took all the papers and went down on the beach with the children and stayed there for a long time reading the papers and talking. Then Sheldon Parsons, who is a member of the Stock Exchange, an old resident of Spring Lake, an old friend of the Neilson family, and a great friend of mine, joined us and a little after 4 Parsons asked us to go down to his house and have cocktails. We went down there, saw his mother and his aunt, Miss Miles, had the cocktails, and were there, I should say, nearly an hour. We left around 5.20 and drove right to New Brunswick, going directly to Sydney Carpenter's, where we were to have Sunday night's supper. I think we stayed there until about 9 o'clock and then we got in the car again and went towards home, stopping at Mrs. Hall's for a few minutes just to see how she was. I don't remember who was there and think we only stayed about ten minutes.

I never at any time, before or after September 14, removed any papers or anything else from Mrs. Hall's house and never spoke to Mrs. Minnie Clark with reference to removing any papers. I only knew Mrs. Minnie Clark very casually
